

The Bridge to Bay Trail extends from St. Clair County's northern border, under the Blue Water Bridges, through Port Huron, Marysville, St. Clair, Marine City, and Algonac; past state and municipal parks, museums, gazebos, and lighthouses. Sometimes the trail is within reach of the water's edge and sometimes a few miles inland. It connects St. Clair County communities for walkers, joggers, strollers, and bicyclists of all ages. It will eventually connect to the Wadhams to Avoca Trail within St. Clair County; the Discover Michigan Trail, the Macomb County Trail Network, and — via ferry — the St. Clair Parkway Trail, Blue Water Trails in Ontario, Canada.

St. Clair County's eastern border is unique. It showcases over 50 miles of some of the best freshwater in the world — Lake Huron, the St. Clair River, and Lake St. Clair. Along that shoreline, we have urban areas, open vistas, beaches, parks, attractions, international bridges and ferries to Canada, giant lake freighters and the Bridge to Bay Trail, which will eventually be a 54-mile paved pedestrian/bike path.

The Bridge to Bay Trail is a cooperative trail program involving the St. Clair County Parks and Recreation Commission and 13 local units of government along the shoreline. Individual communities are responsible for designating trail routes, developing and constructing their trail sections, and maintenance, regulation, and policing.

The Bridge to Bay Trail is diverse in style, landscape, and purpose. Various sections include boardwalks, river walks, rail trails, safety paths and bike paths. Parts of the trail share transportation corridors with state highways and county thoroughfares, while other sections pass through quiet wood lots and wetlands. Some sections - in and around Algonac State Park, the East China Township Park and Pine Grove Park - are purely recreational. Other sections link neighborhoods with either the country or a nearby community.
